Nazione e Religione. La Sintesi turco-islamica e le radici ideologiche della Turchia contemporanea.

Abstract

The research project aims to analyze the relationship between nationalism, Islamism and conservatism in the construction of the right-wing political identity in Turkey. A special attention is given to the Aydınlar Ocağı (Intellectuals' Hearth), an important cultural association founded in 1970 by conservative intellectuals and academicians, coming both from nationalist circles and from the world of political Islamism.
